

Labycare-ETCO2 Monitor (SKSS-IE32)

ETCO2 Monitor Manufacturer by LABYCARE

Description :

ETCO2 Monitor is used in emergency department as an indicator for measurement in clinical situations. Capnography is a non-invasive and accurate method to measure ETCO2 and can help emergency physicians in critical situations.

The monitor supports the display of two waveforms and up to eight parameters using a 4.3 inches LCD.

Standard with sidestream ETCO2, easily change to mainstream by advanced order.

Specifications :

ETCO2 Monitor is used in emergency department as an indicator for measurement in clinical situations. Capnography is a non-invasive and accurate method to measure ETCO2 and can help emergency physicians in critical situations.

The monitor supports the display of two waveforms and up to eight parameters using a 4.3 inches LCD.

Standard with sidestream ETCO2, easily change to mainstream by advanced order.

labycare

www.labycare.com | Email: labycare@gmail.com